Economics is the study of how society allocates scarce resources.

It is important that you actually understand what you are saying.

Ex

Average is different than the Median.
Nominal versus Real - Nominal Numbers are not adjusted for inflation but real numbers are.

Be careful if you use percents.

The base number matters.

In Economics many numbers are rounded.

Arguments - Logic

Avoid

Personal arguments
False analogy
False causation
Fallacy of composition

P xxx Q2